HAF Limited announces the formation of HAF Partners. HAF Partners will provide highly experienced and accomplished management teams to investors and operators, helping them capture telecommunications, media and technology (TMT) shareholder value in challenging markets throughout the world. HAF Partners is a part of the HAF Limited family of companies. In contrast to HAF Consulting Limited, HAF Partners will provide complete management teams responsible for delivering operational results for extended periods of time.

“HAF Partners will build on the continued success of HAF Consulting, which has developed a reputation as one of the top TMT consulting boutiques,” stated Managing Partner, HAF Limited, David Dockter. “Clients have continuously requested that we step beyond our traditional consulting role the last few years. We believe that we have come up with a better way to solve their problems and help them capture opportunity: HAF Partners.”

Bill Loughman, CEO HAF Partners, stated, “The value creation hypothesis is rather simple: a well-tested leadership team is a critical component in capturing and unlocking shareholder value. Instead of wasting time and money trying to find, secure and wait for a team to gel, HAF Partners will provide teams for investors or operators that can gain traction from day one.”

HAF Partners is a team of senior TMT professionals with a track record of success demonstrated over the last two decades in over forty countries. The team began working together in 1995 providing leadership to international wireless operators in Europe, Asia, Africa and America’s pursuing licenses, starting GSM companies and optimizing existing investments. Since then, the team has held senior management positions at numerous companies assisting with all stages of shareholder value creation and realization.

HAF Partners’ leadership team brings 100+ years plus of successful telecommunications management experience, including David Dockter, Bill Loughman, Dino Onofrio, and Jon Short.

HAF Partners will serve a variety of clients, including private equity firms, hedge funds, LBOs and TMT operators and investors and target start-ups, turnarounds, optimization, roll-ups and wind-downs.
